

Fund Distributions Subject to the Federal Alternative Minimum Tax

Income generated by certain holdings in municipal funds is subject to the federal alternative minimum tax (AMT). FIIIS reports exempt interest dividends and the portion of such dividends subject to the federal AMT on Form 1099-INT. For shareholders who are exempt recipients for tax reporting purposes and do not receive a Form 1099-INT, they can use the table below to calculate the amount of income they received from Fidelity municipal funds that should be subject to the federal AMT. Such shareholders would multiply the exempt interest dividends they received from a fund for the 2007 tax year by the applicable percentage below.

Note that for tax reporting purposes, mutual fund distributions declared as payable in October, November, or December and paid by January 31 of the following year are taxable to shareholders based on the record date, not when paid. Therefore, a shareholder may need to look at statements from February 2007 to January 2008, rather than January 2007 to December 2007, to determine all the fund distributions reportable in 2007. Shareholders should consult their tax advisors for any questions about the federal AMT and state or local tax reporting requirements.
